	The Chablis region is the northernmost wine district of the Burgundy region. The grapevines are almost all Chardonnay, making a dry white wine renowned for the purity of its aroma and taste. The cool climate produces wines with more acidity and flavors less fruity than Chardonnay wines grown in warmer climates. This Chablis has a characteristic citrus nose, with aromas and flavors of lemon, nuts, pear, with just a hint of vanilla. An elegant, medium full-bodied white, with a very long finish.
